THURSDAY FEBRUARY 17, 1910

Disappointment should always be taken as a stimulant, and never viewed as a discouragement.

—C. B. Newcomb.

Everybody is glad to see the tourists, and this weather was ordered for their special benefit.

Think of what they are asking—a brand of prohibition unknown in any other part of the United States.

Hawaii, asked to vote on prohibition by Federal enactment, would be asked to vote for or against the overthrow of local self-government.

"Please publish" were two significant words in the cablegram of Delegate Kuhl to the Governor of the Territory. Now what do you think of that?

That niece of Senator Elkins who tried to commit suicide had about the same idea as the daughter of Elkins who tried to marry a duke or something of that sort.

When all these guests are enthusiastic over the Floral Parade, the local people should at least get in and support the Floral Parade workers for all they are worth.

President Taft's request that Congress hurry up and redeem its pledges to the voters is the voice of a progressive spirit and behind it is the stuffed club of the American people.

When they hear of Hawaii's plan for Federal prohibition, perhaps some people of Maine and Kansas will ask for the Federal variety in theirs. And do you suppose they'll get it?

It was presumed that the Civic Federation intended to lend its support to the promotion of legitimate drama, not be the victim of a cheap advertising dodge for cheap playhouses.

According to the editor of the Outlook, Congress can do anything it wants to Hawaii. That's nothing compared with what some local people are trying to do to the Territory in the name of Hobby Horse.

Honolulu is just beginning to see the edge of its future tremendous prosperity. It will grow to unprecedented dimensions on the tourist business and Federal public works, having its industries still to the good.

You declare that liquor has debauched the Hawaiians. That's one phase of it worthy of recognition, but why don't you say something of the hordes of male Orientals you brought into the country who played an equal part in betraying the women and ruining homes of Hawaiians?

EVENING SMILES

The Highlanders of Scotland habitually interject the personal pronoun he into sentences where it does not properly belong. This often makes their conversation ludicrous to Americans, and in the following instance rather detracted from the solemnity of the Sunday morning service.

It was at a little moss-grown kirk in Galway and a party of American tourists had sought it out that they might hear one of the old-school Scotch Presbyterian ministers in his native element. They were not disappointed.

"Brethren," he began, "my text this morning is in the First Epistle of the Apostle Peter, the fifth chapter, the following words:

"The devil he goeth about like a roaring lion, seeking whom he may devour."

"The subject of our text we shall divide into four heads:

"Firstly, we shall endeavor to ascertain who the devil he was? (Sensation among the Americans.)

"Secondly, we shall inquire into his geographical position—namely, Where the devil he was, and where the devil he was going.

"Thirdly, and this inquiry is of a personal character. Who the devil he was seeking? (Suppressed laughter among Americans.)

"And fourthly and lastly, we shall address ourselves to the question which has never been solved yet: What the devil he was roaring about."

lanes? There are more than two sides to most every question when the fanatics begin turning loose their batteries of exaggeration and untruth.

SUPPORT THE BAND.

Supervisor Quinn is absolutely correct in his defense of the Hawaiian band as a community asset for tourists as well as source of pleasure for our local citizens.

This city should spend more money on the band and distribute it among more different events. Our band has a reputation throughout the world, and this city should supply sufficient funds to enable it to maintain that reputation.

To do this requires that the organization should have an increased membership. Captain Berger is doing splendidly with what he has, but the dignity of the Hawaiian band as established by its ancient reputation independently of present-day demands, fully justifies appropriating enough money to assure a complement of numbers and quality that will make our band more talked about than ever, and more enthusiastically praised.

Everybody likes to hear the old band play.

WHAT THEY ARE ASKING.

Honolulu prohibitionists and the Honolulu Civic Federationists, with whom is now associated that prince of all moral virtue, Yoe C. Cohen, have made an appeal that reads something like this:

We want prohibition for Hawaii by Federal enactment—notwithstanding all our business bodies and the Bar Association have voted by an overwhelming majority against any invasion of the rights and privileges of local self-government granted under the Organic Act establishing the Territory of Hawaii. And, further,

We want prohibition for Hawaii by Federal enactment—notwithstanding the fact that there is no other Territory of the United States and no State of the Union and no possession over which the American flag flies that is so treated by the Federal government. And, further, We want an exception made of this Territory on this great subject of prohibition—notwithstanding we outwardly claim that the people of the Territory are as well able to govern themselves as are the citizens of any other Territory, and better than the people of some of the States. And, finally,

We want our theories to prevail as against the sentiment of the majority of the citizens of this Territory, and in opposition to the traditional policies of the United States.

Now what under the sun would you expect a United States Congressman to do with the appeals of an aggregation that, while declaring at one moment for local self-government, demands, in the next breath, the most extraordinary exception to traditional American policies that has ever been seriously presented, even from Hawaii?

The fake advertising of Cohen's Salome dancer is not more silly nor the true purpose more unskillfully disguised, than the propositions now being forwarded to Congress in the name of prohibition of the liquor traffic.

If these persons were honest, they would say to Congress: We don't want popular American government; give us an oligarchy.

DROP THE EXCEPTIONS.

The Bulletin is informed on the authority of a representative of the Promotion Committee that the hotel accommodations of this city are practically filled at the present time and there is some doubt felt that the large party of Elk tourists coming on the Alameda will get just the accommodations they want.

This being the case, we presume the advocates of the suspension of the American coastwise shipping laws will, in order to be consistent, immediately petition Congress that the protection granted by the laws of the nation on all materials used in the construction and maintenance of American hotels in these islands shall immediately be suspended.

Just to be consistent, we presume these coastwise suspensionists will begin to berate Alexander Young because he does not build two or three new million-dollar hotels immediately, in order to provide for the increasing number of tourists who may not be able to find just what they want at just the exact time they may make the demand.

Then, to complete the program, they might get some very good and sadly misguided citizen to arise in his place and declare it to be a shame that under the American laws Hawaii should invite people to come to this city and then "maroon" them on the house-tops or in the green fields and pastures, but never give them the best room in the best boarding-house when someone else is occupying it. And what difference would it make, he might argue, that the room is vacant six months of the year? Here is a man who can't get what he wants during the season of congested travel.

They might distribute over a large portion of the United States as they are able to reach, an array of misrepresentation—similar to that sent out in connection with the coastwise law suspension campaign—that the hotels and boarding-houses are crowded full in Honolulu and residents and visitors can't get what they want, and so forth.

That's what our misguided friends might do. Since they were so ready to insult Captain Matson on his arrival with a new steamship, a little thing like hotel misrepresentation would apparently not faze them.

If, however, they follow the Bulletin's advice, they will not do any of these fool things in connection with the hotels and they will refrain from their appeal for Hawaiian exceptions to the laws framed by the United States to protect our American shipping.

They will continue to boast for what Hawaii has to offer. They will give the progressive men of the city and Territory the time required to build new hotels, if needed, and new ships for passengers under the American flag. They will shape their energies and their resolutions to Congress in such a manner that the avenues of passenger communication between Hawaii and the mainland shall be controlled by American ships.

the following: B. F. Ehlers & Co., Oahu R. & Co., Outrigger Club, Fort Shafter, Chinese, British, German, Portuguese, Hawaiian, American.

The automobile floats which have been entered up to date are as follows: Kaimuki Improvement Club, the Pacific Club, the Commercial Club, Japanese Merchants' Association, Press Car, Trent Trust Co., Palama Settlement.

The college alumni of this city are working hard to be well represented in the parade. The following have signified their intentions of entering decorated cars: Harvard, Yale, Princeton and Oahu College graduates. The College Club will hold a meeting this afternoon to consider what kind of a float they will enter for the parade.

Among the individual automobile owners in town who have signified their intention of entering a car are the following: J. A. McLean, Mrs. J. M. Dowsett, H. F. Wichman, J. A. Gilman, M. F. Prosser, Allan Herbert, Mrs. H. E. Huatae, N. C. King, Mrs. H. T. Watty, and others.

Lieut. Col. Hunter of the Fifth Cavalry and Major Foster were in town yesterday and consulted with Director General H. G. Dillingham in regard to the squadron which will take part in the parade. Arrangements have been made by the Floral Day Parade Committee whereby the men of this squadron will be entertained at lunch on the day of the parade and their horses watered after the parade is over.

The presence of the Fifth Cavalry in the parade will be more than spectacular. I form one of the conspicuous features of the parade.

Following is a copy of a letter sent out to owners of automobiles and for the benefit of those who contemplate putting in a float, decorated car, or bicycle in the coming parade: "It is urgently requested that all those who will enter automobiles for the parade will please notify the Floral Day Parade Committee at once, at 120 King Street, or the car will be entered as a float or a decorated machine. If the latter, please state length of wheel, space, H. G. Dillingham, director general."

SHOOTS AT SHARKS AND SAVES SAILOR

his vessel around to the spot where Lewellyn was surrounded by sharks, and by rapid firing of his rifle kept the sea tigers at bay.

George Kaimi, a Hawaiian member of the Intrepid's crew, then dived overboard and notwithstanding the presence of the sharks, held Lewellyn until a rope could be passed to them.

Lewellyn acted in a queer fashion before diving overboard and it is said by some of the people who met him before he shipped on the Celtic Chief that he appeared to be crazy.

Captain Hyde says that the saving of the man's life is solely due to the heroic act of his deck hand, George Kaimi.

The Rev. D. T. Van Doren of Norwalk, Conn., says if a man expects to live to be 120 years he should take good care of his solar plexus.

ATTORNEY THAYER

FILES PROTEST

Attorney Wade Warren Thayer has sent a broadside into the city hall calling attention to the condition of the lower portion of Alewa road, which was recently completed by the city road department at a cost of several thousand dollars to the taxpayers.

According to Thayer, the usefulness of the highway is greatly endangered by the accumulation of weeds which have been allowed to grow along the ditches lining the roadway, thereby choking the drainage. The result has been that the volume of storm water can not be carried off after a heavy rain and it covers the road to a depth of several inches.

Thayer stated his belief that the labor of one man for but a single day would place the ditches in good condition again. Quinn, chairman of the road committee, has been delegated to appease the injured feelings of the residents of Alewa road.

PROMOTION COMMITTEE

MEETING POSTPONED

The regular weekly meeting of the Promotion Committee, which was to have taken place this afternoon, has been postponed until Monday afternoon, owing to the Chamber of Commerce meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when Marston Campbell will read his paper on "Harbor Improvements and Various Public Utilities."

The Promotion Committee will further discuss the question of opening a branch office at Atlantic City. This matter was brought up at the last meeting by Secretary Wood, and proved such an interesting topic that time was too limited to plan anything definite. Mr. Hoogs was appointed chairman of a committee to look into this matter, and he will read his paper next Monday.

CONSOLIDATED

ELECTS OFFICERS

At the meeting of the Consolidated Pheasant Company this morning, the following directors were elected: L. A. Thurston, F. B. McStocker, R. W. Shingle, P. M. Pond, G. P. Thielan, A. N. Campbell, J. B. Castle.

A complete report was submitted by Mr. Dowling, the manager, in which is stated that the plantation was in excellent condition and with the favorable weather now being experienced, the prospects for the coming season were good.

It is reported that the bridge at Waiman will be finished and open for traffic at 4 o'clock today.
